Notes on Ryde's Book of Reference to his Horsell Parish Survey of 1851

This survey was carried out by the Order of the Board of Guardians of the Chertsey Union - which included the Parish of Horsell. Edward Ryde, a surveyor, from Old Woking was the contractor. Ryde did similar work for several others nearby parishes. The purpose seems to do with valuations after the replacement of tithes in kind by an annual cash fee. The outcome was a large scale map (25 inches to the mile) which shows, and numbers, every plot of land. The accompanying Book of Reference lists the owner, the occupier, its name or use, the state of cultivation (for agricultural land), and its area. The map, cut up into 17 pages, and the Book of Reference are held at the Surrey History Centre with the references 6198/11/188 and 6198/11/189 respectively. www.surreycc.gov.uk/surreyhistorycentre

The information has been set out in an Excel spreadsheet. To make the spreadsheet more user friendly some minor changes, and some additions, have been made as explained below.

Layout of the Spreadsheet

The columns in the Book of Reference are:

Heading	Contents
OWNERS	Name or names
OCCUPIERS	Name or names if different from owner
No. on Plan	Plot number as shown on the map
DESCRIPTION	Name of field; or type of building (cottage, homestead etc) on the plot.
STATE OF CULTIVATION	Arable, meadow, orchard, nursery, wood – as appropriate. Blank if the plot contained a dwelling - except in a few instances where the description is 'House and land' or similar.
QUANTITIES	Area measured in acres, roods, and square poles i.e. 3 columns (rood = one quarter of an acre. Square pole = one fortieth of a rood)

The information for each plot of land is shown in a row in the spreadsheet – edited as follows:

OCCUPIERS. If the Owner was also the Occupier the Book of Reference entry has 'Themselves' or 'Himself' or 'Herself'. But in the spreadsheet the owner's name has been repeated to make it easy to sort by occupier's name. Also an additional column has been inserted, labelled 'Comparison', which contains either 's' (owner and occupier are the same) or 'd' when they differ.

Notes on Ryde's Book of Reference to his Horsell Parish Survey of 1851

No on Plan. A subdivision has been made when dwellings, with two occupiers, were listed on a single plot of land (e.g. Plot no. 28 is subdivided into 28.1 and 28.2 and there are two rows in the spreadsheet); the area of the plot has been divided in half. There are few such subdivisions and they all relate to tenements.

DESCRIPTION. As explained above a few plots with two tenements have been subdivided.

STATE OF CULTIVATION. No editing has been done. In particular apparent inconsistencies between the description and the state of cultivation have been left e.g. the description sometimes contains 'orchard' but the state of cultivation does not and is 'arable' or 'nursery'.

QUANTITIES. A column has been inserted, headed 'Acres', which gives the area in acres with one decimal point. That is the roods and square poles have been decimalised. The Book of Reference has cumulative totals at the foot of each page which are carried forward to the next page. These totals are omitted from the spreadsheet.

Page numbers. The Book of Reference has no page numbers. A sequential page count has however been included. A blank row indicates where one page ends and the next begins. There are with 18 or 19 entries on most pages.

Row numbers. A column has been inserted which numbers each row of the spreadsheet – including the blank rows. This is to enable the initial layout to be restored if the spreadsheet has been sorted.

Plot Numbers sequence

Mostly this is geographical starting from Horsell village and going round the parish in a broadly anti-clockwise direction. Hence dwellings are interspersed with fields; and the different types of field are also mixed up. There are two exceptions to this. One is that all the Common land, listed by Ryde as 'Waste', is grouped together and entered after all the dwellings and fields at Plot numbers 647 to 711 – these include some Public Roads and Greens. (A single piece of Waste is listed at Plot 116; it is separate from all the other waste being on the railway side of the Canal). The other grouping is that of the 13 plots belonging to the Basingstoke Canal. They are numbered 152a to 152n and were placed after Plot 711 at the end of the listing. Plot 152 itself appears in the sequential order but is a blank.
